After the opening of the court, yesterday morn ing, the Judge ordered them to "come down," which, it is unnecessary to say, they did, withou the least hesitation! Finding those gentlemen impracticable, they were dismissed. Said one of them (as he left the premises) to a brother juror, "I reckon I can get shaved now," passing his hand over the prominent crop of hair which had grown on his face during his four days' incarceration, while the other responded, "Yes, and my bones are sore, sleeping on that hard bench." A third juror was seen plowing the snow with a dinner-kettle in his hand, and a fourth with a blanket under his arm. They really had an unpleasant time; and, it is to be presumed they are not over-anxious that the hardships through which they had just passed shall be repeated.

Yesterday morning, no ladies and gentleme were seated on the iron settees, under the trees of the Capitol grounds; nor did we notice, in any direction, either umbrellas or parasols, as shield to the rays of the sun! Pennsylvania avenue was not a thronged and gay promenade, for the display of fashion and of beauty. No little ones appeared, toddling along, holding to their servants' hands: nor were infantiles out "airing," "touted" in their nurses' arms, and gazing about them in wild delight. Marketers did not stop to exchange news or to make inquiries as to the welfare of their respective households. Everybody, bundled in winter garments, appeared to be in a hurry, losing no time in pedestrianism. It was not pleasant to halt, while the winds, sweeping over the snow pierced through the thickest garments. Towards noon, however, the temperature moderated considerably under the influence of the genial sun.

" Fi-er! Fi-er-r."-Yesterday morning, half-past two o'clock, such was the cry, in a deep, loud, mournful tone, first heard in the vicinity of the Centre Market, and afterwards repeated along Pennsylvania avenue, proceeding westward. The Captain of the Auxiliary Guard was aroused from his half-sleep and half-awake condition, and hurried forth to ascertain the direction of the supposed conflagration. By the time he reached the Franklin engine-house, the bell of that company was in full swing; its startling tones wafted over the city on the wings of the wind, which howled fariously and swept with such violence as threatened the downfall of many a chimney. It was, indeed, a learful morning for a fife. A spark would have been kindled into vast flames, to the power! It was a false alarm, however, originatng in mischief, but served the purpose of awaking from their slumbers not a few of the inhabitants, who, having thrust out at the windows their night-capped heads, and, while testing the severity of the weather, satisfied themselves that they were secure from the "devouring element," again returned to the pillows from which they had been so provokingly aroused.

Criminal Court.-Yesterday morning three s, named Adolphus Erb, William Bulger, dictment for setting fire to Thomas Dickens's stable, on Capitol hill. THIRTY-THIRD CONGRESS Senate -- Saturday, January 27, 1855.

House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER laid before the body a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury, transfiniting estimates for carrying into effect the law for the preservation of lives and property on the coast of the United States. Referred to the Committees of Ways and Means.

Mr. GOODWIN introduced a bill providing for the working of the United States steam dredgeboat, at the harbor of Oswego, on Lake Ontario; which was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. KERR submitted a resolution, "That the President of the United States inform the House, f not incompatible with the public interest, whether, in any correspondence with the minister of the United States at Madrid and the Spanish Government, or otherwise, it is insisted by the latter that the treaty of 1795, between Spain and the United States, is not applicable to the Spanish colonies, and that American citizens residing in said colonies are not entitled to the benefits of the provisions of said treaty."

Mr. BAYLY moved that the resolution be re

ation bill.

A large number of amendments were offered and discussed; two only were adopted.

Finally the substitute offered by Mr. Bayly for the House bill—similar to that which passed the Senate—was agreed to.

It was subsequently reported to the Honse and passed—yeas 110, nays 76.

Mr. WALSH offered an amendment to the title of the bill, declaring it was for the benefit of heart-less speculators, lobbyers, etc.

The question was taken on it, Mr. Walsh only voting in the affirmative.

The House adjourned.

GLMAN'S Drug Store, is deserving of the highest commendation as a cure for Chronic and Acute Rheumatism. It seldom, if ever, fails to give speedy and permanent relief. This Liniment has been prepared by Z. D. Gilman, chemist of this city for many years, and since its introduction has been extensively used by many of the most respectable families in the District and vicinity, to whom reference can be made at any time as to its magical effects in curing Rheumatism, even in elderly persons, who had been sufferers for a long time. It was originally made for horses, for the cure of lameness, saddle galls, &c., and is now much used for such purposes, being an iavaluable article wherever a Liniment is required either for man or beast.

Sick Headache Remedy.—A remedy for the sick headache, which has been recently offered to the public, is attracting great attention, not only to the public, is attracting great attention, not only by reason of the very satisfactory testimonials to its efficacy which have been volunteered by many who have been benefited by it, but also because there are so great a number of people who are afficted with the distressing complaint, for which no medicine has before been made public. Dr. Eastman, who discovered the efficacy of his "remedy," is a physician in this city, in high standing, with a large practice. He is a physician in whom great confidence is placed; and we do not wonder that his remedy for a very common disease, which has been so long needed, has attracted the attention of all sufferers from headache who have heard of it. From our own knowledge of Dr. Eastman's char icine deserves the favor it receives, and that it will prove to be a great benefit to all who may give it a trial.—Lynn News, December 23, 1853.

PROSPECTUS

UNITED STATES TIMES, Weekly Newspaper to be published Washington City.

The undersigned, expecting soon to retire from the position he has for some time held as Superin-tendent of the United States Census, intends to devote himself to the control and management of the REVIEW, of which, for the last nine years, he has been the editor and proprietor, and to the publication in the City of Washington of a weekly ewspaper with the above title.

The material for this paper will consist, in part of selections or extracts from articles admitted into the REVIEW, but mainly of other original literary, educational, industrial, and miscellaneous matters, including digests of the current events of the day, home and foreign; the proceedings o Congress and the acts of the Government; literary and scientific sketches and essays upor leading and popular topics; biographical sketches of public men; digest of official reports, State and Federal; the state of the markets in the several large cities; the progress and prospects of crops supply, demand, prices, etc.; the increase of the country as shown by statistics, bringing down those of the National Census always to date.

The object will be, through careful editoria management and a large and well-selected correspondence, to establish at the seat of government a Family Newspaper which shall be adapted to the wants of every community; imparting ausement and information, and political, only to the extent of maintaining the institutions of the country and defending the rights and sovereignty

The City of Washington, from the advantage which it presents for obtaining material of every kind, through the action of the Smithsonian Institution, the Patent Office, and the National Agricultural Convention, etc., and the several Bureaus and Departments of Government, from its contiguity to the large commercial cities, from the extended, exciting, and all important interests that oncentrate upon it, is, perhaps, the most eligible ocation for such a journal, and ample guarantees of its success have already been received. It will be printed in folio for the convenience of binding, and similar in style to the New York Albion.

Memoir of the Great Magician MACALLISTER: THE WONDER OF THE AGE!

This extraordinary Professor of the Cabalistic Art, is engaged by MR. MALONE RAYMOND, Lecturer, Humorist, and author of "Hours in Ireland and other Lands,") to appear in all his Necromanic Wonders,

FOR SIX NIGHTS, commencing on Monday Evening, January 29th, 1855. And following Evenings.

Mr. MALONE RAYMOND having, some time since, witnessed on the Continent of Europe, the extraordinary and wonderful performancee of this highly gifted Professor of the Magic Art, recently engaged his valuable services through the chief cities of Canada, for several performances; and so great was his attraction, that he continued to crowd the houses many weeks in succession, realizing to himself a clear profit of more than TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS!

A large sum is secured him to visit Washington

MAD'ME MACALLISTER is an Italian by birth, educated in Paris, in which city the Young Magician first saw the lady, and won her heart and hand. She is highly born and possessed of varied talents and accomplishments, and has become an able and dexterous assistant to her husband in his bewitching and bewildering Feats of Necromancy. They are both still young. Recently, in Spain, the performance of the Wizard and his Lady was the leading fashion of a whole season. Madame Macallister is a daughter of one of Napoleon's most celebrated officers, distinseason. Madame Macallister is a daughter of one of Napoleon's most celebrated officers, distinguished in many of the Emperor's battles.

Her Majesty, the QUEEN! had a splendid Pavilion erected for them in her Palace, at Madrid, where their nightly feats were honored by the smiles and plaudits of the entire Royal Household, as well as by crowds of the Spanish Nobility and Gentry. Several SPLENDID DIAMONDS were presented to the Wizard by Her Majesty on these occasions. Italy, France, Germany, Portugal, Cuba, United States, &c., have been visited by these artistes, the different languages of which countries they speak fluently, and have universally won golden opinions as well as golden favors in each.
